Rate the New LFT Terminal Designs!

It's an exciting time at your airport! The Lafayette Airport Commission is proud to unveil the two architectural designs that have been submitted for the New LFT Terminal, and we want your input.

The two new terminal designs - Journey and Rhythm - were recently submitted by RS&H of Austin, Texas, the architectural and engineering firm selected to design the New LFT Terminal.

These designs are featured now in an interactive portal at NewLFTterminal.com. Visit the website and rate the designs. It's a quick process, and your input is very important.

Journey

The "Journey" design explores the historical journey and voyage of the many people who have settled in this region.

"Today that collective story continues to be celebrated in art, music, food, festivals and family gatherings that create a shared experience," said Frank Gratton, RS&H Senior Aviation Architect. "The Acadian flag and the St. John Cathedral Oak are symbols of this story that are recalled in the structure and angular design of the land side entry canopy."

"The new Lafayette terminal seeks to be a place where art meets architecture, cultivating a meaningful integration of shared experience and modern function," Gratton said. "This experience, history and culture serve as a compass to guide the design and creates terminal architecture responsive of a community and people."
